To the FCC officials who will be voting on the repeal of NET NEUTRALITY rules,

I am writing to express my extreme opposition to the proposal to repeal the current Net Neutrality rules that are in existence. The current system allows equal access to all to information on the internet. Repealing the current rules and regulations will allow internet service providers to control flow of traffic, determine who can access particular websites, and generally create an UNDEMOCRATIC AND UNFAIR platform. The internet must be free of corporate control. I ask you NOT to repeal the current Net Neutrality regulations.
